

1. What is Markdown?

Is a lightweight markup language for creating formatted text using a plain text editor.

2. What is Git?

It is a open source designed to managed projects of all sizes with speed and efficiency.

3. What is Github?

Is a way of hosting Git repositories to share and collaborate codes.

4. What is Slack?

Is a channel base message and work operating system used for team communication and collaboration by organization conversations into channels for projects or teams.